Fall guys season 2 leaks

Fall Guy's Season 2 leaks show that Cyberpunk 2077 and The Witcher Crossover Skins are coming to the party royale gameshow titles later this season. It's been three months since Fall Guys' community manager had a pretty humorous run-in with CD PROJEKT RED via Twitter, and a leak may have revealed that Fall Guys will actually work with The Witcher and Cyberpunk 2077. While the collaboration began as a few light-hearted tweets, the cyberpunk and witcher costumes that come into play can ask fans which of Fall Guys' other tweets will become reality and what jokes will remain. On August 6, Fall Guys tweeted at Cyberpunk 2077 and asked how many retweets it took to make a collapse. Cyberpunk 2077 replied One., but Fall Guys fans were too enthusiastic and went beyond the required amount. The Witcher then rang with the statement that if Fall Guys wanted a more exciting collapse, they would DM instead. As with all things that Had to do with The Guys' Case, Twitter erupted in excitement about the possible collaboration. However, neither side has since commented on their cooperation. Start now After today's launch of Autumn Guys Season 2, Dataminers have begun to do what they do best: mining data. One Twitter user, KrxnkyFG, who posts The Guys Leaks case, claimed exclusively that there are entries in the game's files that point to upcoming Cyberpunk 2077 crossover costumes. The two costumes listed are the male and female variations of the player-controlled protagonist V, and the third skin is Johnny Silverhand, the rock star, played by Keanu Reeves. Another Twitter user/Fall Guys Leaker called FallMix posted his own findings pointing to a costume featuring Bathtime Geralt and a Geralt Faceplate from The Witcher. There will also be 3 new cyberpunk Collab Skins in Season 2:- V - Female (costume_cyberpunk_01)- V - Male (costume_cyberpunk_02) - Johnny Silverhand (costume_cyberpunk_03) Leaks have revealed that Sonic and Geralt Skins will be added to Fall Guys during the second season. Fall Guys players want to see crossover with almost any franchise possible and a few leaks have shown that some big come out in The Second Season. Fall Guy's season two began yesterday, again the hype move of the game back from the front. This season has a medieval theme, as its new levels and fresh skins show. Players will be able to dress up as dragons, knights and witches as the season progresses, and earn these outfits by spending hard-earned kudos and crowns in the game's store. The season has, of course, only just begun, and the Herbst Guys are developing have many surprises up their sleeves. Players will hope that the game will get more crossover content, as during the first season almost every second game in the known universe was asked to be a part of the case. Be. Universe. Some very early leaks have shown that this will indeed be the case. Two very big games will come to Fall Guys in the form of brand new skins. First of all, one of the most famous characters in gaming, Sonic the Hedgehog. HYPEX shared some screenshots of the skin on Twitter with the help of Fall Mix, which can be seen below. Apparently, the top and bottom five crowns will cross each and it will be available on October 14, 2020. The other leak might be even more exciting, but from now on there is no image that shows what it will look like if it looks on a bean. That's a shame, as according to Fall Mix Fall Guys this season, a bathtub will add Geralt skin to the game. We'll leave what that might look like for your imagination, but chances are it will be very, very popular. There will also be a Geralt faceplate available to round off Fall Guy's work with The Witcher. Collaboration with @WitcherGame + @CDPROJEKTRD;- Bathime Geralt Costume - Geralt FaceplateRelease Date: ??? (not yet in files) The Blue Blur could soon get a new bean-like look as a Sonic the Hedgehog skin is leaking for the second season of Fall Guys. Fall Guy's season 2 began earlier today, bringing new treats and stages. The medieval season of content is likely to see the addition of another gaming crossover, although, as Fall Guys has seen a Sonic the Hedgehog skin leaked online, it's not. While the Knights and Wizard skins added to Fall Guys are certainly cute, Sonic can take the cake in terms of rapture. With the classic red boots worn by the speedster and his trademark blue fur, the look is on the spot. A pair of large white gloves and prickly hair on the back of the bean's head only completes the Sonic Cosplay, with the new Fall Guy's outfit looking pretty impressive. While the leak with an image of the costume is pretty damned and almost guarantees the absorption of the skin, the source of the leak only increases the likelihood that Sonic Fall Guys will join. The reputable Fortnite leaker Hypex, known for leaking many of The Battle Royale's marvel skins and upcoming Fortnite Halloween content, has proven to be right in the past. With a picture for the skin posted along with Hypex's tweet, it seems almost guaranteed that the most famous hedgehog of gaming will arrive in Season 2. It's not the first time Fall Guys has seen a gaming crossover, as Mediatonic's popular collection of party games has already brought in some characters who make cameos. Early on, there were several Steam crossovers, in which Gordon Freeman from Half Life joined the Scout from Team Fortress to Fall Guys. Chell and P-Body of Portal fame also made appearances, and Guys even got a decent crossover with the indie game Gris. Based on past skins and now the inclusion of Sonic, the door is clearly open for far more video game crossover in Fall Guys. The exclusivity of the game's PS4 console could potentially lead to many new skins based on PlayStation. Based. but it remains to be seen whether crossovers with Sony-owned characters will happen. At least Fall Guys fans will get a Sonic the Hedgehog crossover, which is another win for the character in 2020. With big plans for Sonic's 30th anniversary next year, the character doesn't seem to be going anywhere anytime soon. With the leaked skin still a long way off, however, Fall Guys players can see the Season 2 patch notes to get an idea of what content can be accessed right now. With a new battle pass, game mode and costumes, there should be plenty to do until Sonic races over Slime Climb. Fall Guys is now available for PC and PlayStation 4. (Photo credit: Mediatonic) Fall Guys: Ultimate Knockout has taken the gaming world by storm. Game revolves around participating in a crazy game show in which candidates have to survive different rounds until there is only one player left. It is reminiscent of popular TV shows such as It's a Knockout, Takeshi's Castle and Total Wipeout. The game has become so popular thanks to the colorful jug that emerges during each round, and the simple simple make them super accessible. All you need to think about running, jumping and packing your way through the various events. The elimination pool starts small, but grows with each round, until only 15 players out of a total of 60 participants remain. Events can range from those that depend on individual skills (and let's face it, a bit of luck) to team events. All of them can lead to some hilarious results, as you push to the finish line in a desperate race or try to score the most points. Since the game is essentially a Battle Royale game – the last jelly bean standing wins – the rush to win a crown is palpable, as the sheer chance you have to overcome to win one makes it all the more special. It's easy to see why Fall Guys is so popular, then, and with Season 2 now, more fun awaits. You can earn two different currencies in Fall Guys: Kudos and Crowns. Kudos is often rewarded for simply playing the game, but crowns act as the game's premium currency, which is only awarded by being the last player to be in the season pass or earned by certain levels. As it stands, Fall Guys is only on Steam on PS4, but the developer has hinted that the Xbox One and Nintendo Switch will be considered when the demand is there. In a recent statement, Medatonic said: First of all, Fall Guys will only be available on PS4 and Steam. We would like to bring the game to other platforms further down. Please let us know on Twitter and Discord which platforms you would like to publish next from us - we would be happy to see how big the demand is!
